SOCIAL SOCIETY

The notable social event of the week was the reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Richards last night, in honor of Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox. The affair was in charge of the Utah State Kindergarten association, and was a delightful one in all its details. The entire house was thrown open, and decorated with palms, potted plants and flowers, presented a most attractive appearance. Prof. Schettler's famous trio rendered a delightful program of choice music, and during the evening musical numbers were rendered by Miss Jane Mackintosh, Mrs. Wetzel, Prof. Skelton and Mr. Fred Graham.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Richards and the guest of honor were Mrs. Ida Dusenberry, president of the State Kindergarten association, Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells, Mrs. R. K. Thomas and Mrs. Benson, the last two officers of the S. K. A. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. F. C. Kelsey, Mrs. Ruby Morse and Miss Scholes, and punch was served by Mrs. J. Richards. In the hall the guests were received by Mrs. J. M. Dart and Mrs. Selden I. Clawson.

From 8 until 11 o'clock a large throng filled the rooms, delighted to greet the talented guest whose name has become a household word with so great a number of people. Among the guests were many of the state officials, and the presidents of the various local clubs, with a number of other prominent people. About 200 were present to enjoy the evening.

Artistic in every detail was the "buttery luncheon" given by Mrs. George P. Holman on Monday afternoon, the function being in the nature of an Easter tea. Throughout the rooms were baskets of roses, lilies, daffodils and violets, a charming spring atmosphere being effected with the profusion of flowers and their dainty fragrance. A stringed orchestra stationed in the hall rendered delightful music, and dainty refreshments were served during the afternoon. The hostess was assisted in the drawing-room by Mrs. Harkness, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Calhoun, and in the diningroom by Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. McCreath. Mrs. Proulx and Miss Lane served punch in the library. About 75 guests were present during the afternoon.

An affair which must rank among the social events of the week in spite of its club nature, is the meeting of the Daughters of the Revolution on Thursday afternoon. The society was entertained at the home of Mrs. T. G. Webster, and a large number of guests besides the regular members were present. The rooms presented a brilliant appearance. Everywhere the colors of the society, blue and gold, were in evidence, mingled with the red, white and blue, and the effect was most artistic. Numberless flags draped the walls and arches, and daffodils in blue vases stood about, while a picture of Washington framed in the national colors, hung over the bay window which was also draped in flags. On the table in the dining room a large golden eagle formed the centerpiece and at each corner were tiny silken flags tied with golden cords. The paper napkins were in flag designs, and the ice cream had cherries and tiny flags on the surface.

The program commenced with a most interesting paper by Mrs. Phoebe Y. Beattie, on the origin and history of the American flag, beginning with the first one made by Betsy Ross, and continuing down to the present. A story relating to the topic was read by Mrs.

BEAUTIFUL ALICE THAW.

Miss Alice Thaw, daughter of Mrs. William Thaw of Pittsburg and heiress to the many millions of her late father, is the latest American girl to fall a victim to a British title and the noble graces of its holder. Her wedding to the Earl of Yarmouth is to take place at Pittsburg on April 27. The earl's noble father will come to America for the ceremony.

Ticomb, and Mrs. Charissa Williams read the song "Columbia," while the music was played softly on the piano. Mrs. Mamie Cannon also read a description of the Battle of Lexington. The meeting was presided over by the regent, Mrs. Julia M. Farnsworth, and was a most delightful one in all respects.

Mrs. M. L. Barnes entertained at dinner on Tuesday afternoon, covers being laid for 10. The table was prettily decorated, Easter lilies and daffodils being used with artistic effect. The guests were: Mrs. Mose Christensen and Mr. and Mrs. Cavette of Boise, Ida; Mrs. William F. Knox of Beaver City; Miss Belle Dewey and Mrs. Barnes; Messrs. Fred Barrett, Fred and Carl Barnes.

Mrs. Charles Vaden was also hostess at a delightful affair on Monday, entertaining about 11 guests at a luncheon at her home. Green and white were the colors used, and were beautifully carried out. The table was spread with damask lace over green satin, and in the center of the table was a bank of lilies with a border of smilax, while lilies were strewn about the table. The guests found their places by guessing conundrums, the answers to which were the names of various trees. The guests were Mrs. Alexander C. Ewing, Mrs. Clifford R. Pearsall, Mrs. Charles Post, Mrs. J. B. Cresswell, Mrs. Miles Finlin, Mrs. Louise Smedley-Smith, Mrs. William Pardee, Miss Dooly, Miss Dorn, Miss McMillan, Miss Dickson.

Empey, uncle of the groom officiated, the marriage being solemnized in the presence of relatives and near friends of the bride and groom. The rooms were decorated in white and green, roses and carnations being effectively used with palms smilax and potted plants. The bride wore a gown of white organdie with bertha of Mechlin lace sent by her mother from Australia, and carried a shower of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Roundy, and the groom a son of ex-Mayor John Clark. The young couple will be at home after May 1, at 32 Q street.

At 8:30 o'clock on Wednesday at the bride's home Miss Josephine Chapman and Mr. W. B. McCartney were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Peter Simpkins of the Phillips Congregational church. The rooms were beautifully decorated with a profusion of lilies, white roses and carnations, effectively used with potted plants and vases, and a sumptuous wedding supper was served later, the near relatives and guests being present. The bride is the organist of the Phillips church and the groom a chorister in the same place. They will be at home at 428 Eighth East street after May 1.

On Thursday night the wedding of Miss Emma Frances Parsons and Henry Warren Pratt took place, the ceremony being performed at 8:30 o'clock by Rev. Frank Barnett, at the East Side Baptist church. Floral decorations with palms and vines made the church attractive, and a large number of friends were present to witness the ceremony. The bride and groom left immediately for a trip and will be at home after two weeks.

Mrs. M. B. Horrocks was entertained by a number of her friends and relatives Tuesday evening in honor of her sixtieth birthday, the evening being spent in social chats and other amusements, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. V. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. R. Solomon, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Horrocks, Mr. and Mrs. R.
